Best-Practices

our college is carrying out it's educational activities in a systematic manner along with spiritual, Philosophical and cultural upliftment and is fulfilling some special tasks. For example all the boys/gizes students collectively Perform Shivratri Jagran on the occasion of Mahashivratri festival and perform Shivarchan and play an active role by doing physical labor in Gurupurnima, and Brahm Nirvan Mahotsava and other organized at Sri Ekraśanand Ashram attached to the college. Even small children of the secondary Sanskrit school run along with this Ashram are taught by heart will-written and ethical verses. Students also play a role in other institutions run by the Ashram as per the occasion. In our secondary school also, a larger dimension taught learnt by heart to these children by memorizing the scriptures, In which the overall support of the college remains continuous. Along with studies, these programs also develop their spirit of skill development.

1. To establish a relationship between both traditional ancient and modern scholars for the overall development of culture and Sanskrit language.
2. To organize many programs for the advancement of Sanskrit language along with other languages.
3. To arrange various programs to preserve the ancient richness and to expose various cultural aspects before the general public.
4. To organize vakyartha sabha- national seminar and lecture series for mutual relation between ancient scriptures and modern scriptures for the prosperity of ancient knowledge tradition.
5. To publish research magazine of the college as current need.
6. Academic, examination and other important work become the consent of all staff in the college.
7. Since all the teaching staff are intellectual, so they work with friendly and mutual relation in the college.
